

JESUS ANSWERS HIS DISCIPLES' QUESTIONS

(Jerusalem) — When the eleven disciples (followers) of Jesus heard that he was alive again, they had a lot of questions. They wondered if it was just a story somebody had made up. But when people who had walked down a road with him came and told about what happened, the disciples knew it was not just a story.

They wondered if Jesus was just a ghost now, instead of a real person. But when Jesus came to them, he ate some fish right in front of them. They realized Jesus was more than just a ghost.

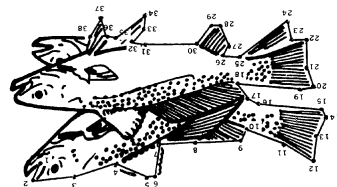

They wondered why Jesus had died in the first place. But Jesus told them the Old Testament had said that God's Son would have to die for everybody's sins. When they heard that, the disciples finally understood.
